COURSE OBJECTIVES: The piano course for non-music majors will include private lessons that will encourage students to develop keyboard skills through standard classical repertoire. Teachers will setup the necessary repertoire and studies to achieve this goal.

GRADING: All students are required to play a jury at the end of semester. Memorization is not required, but recommended. The jury grade is the average of those from all of the teachers present at the jury. The final grade for the semester is the average of jury grade and the teacher's semester grade. In determining the semester grade, the teacher will take into consideration the student's preparation for lessons, effort, and progress during the semester.

ADA DISABILITY ACCOMODATION: Any student with a disability requiring accommodations in this course is encouraged to contact me after class or during office hours. Additionally, students will also need to contact Disability Support Services in the Allen Center.

ATTENDANCE: A lesson missed by a student without providing a notice the evening before will be regarded as an unexcused absence. In certain circumstances, exceptions to this rule may be made at the discretion of the teacher. Regardless of notice, repeated cancellations are unacceptable. Four or more unexcused absences from lesson will result in a failing grade for the semester.
